

I love my XM radio and I do not think it is right to try to keep them from putting weather forecasts, etc on the air. I travel quite a bit and I love having the convenience I have with the XM. I get to listen to most of my favorite shows without continually having to "surf".